WAITING.

Learn to wait—life's hardest lesson,
Conned, perchance, through blinding tears;
While the heart-throbs sadly echo
To the tread of passing years.

Learn to wait—hope's slow fruition;
Faint not, though the way seem long;
There is joy in each condition,
Hearts, through suffering, may grow strong.

Constant sunshine, howe'er welcome,
Ne'er would ripen fruit or flower;
Giant oaks owe half their greatness
To the scathing tempest's power.

Thus a soul, untouched by sorrow,
Aims not at a higher state;
Joy seeks not a brighter morrow,
Only sad hearts learn to wait.

Human strength and human greatness
Spring not from life's sunny side,
Heroes must be more than drift wood;
Floating on a waveless tide.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES.

BY MRS. LINCOLN PHELPS.

HARRISON AND TYLER.

These two names are associated in history as chosen by the vote of the people to be President and Vice President of the United States, in 1840. They were as unlike in character as in the history of their lives.—William Henry Harrison inherited a military spirit from his ancestor, General Harrison, distinguished in English annals for his bravery in the army of the Commonwealth. His father was one of the memorable signers of the Declaration of Independence—which act, as they all well knew, exposed them to the ignominious death of the traitor; and the chances were very small that poor America could resist the immense power of the British Government. While yet but a lieutenant in the army, young Harrison was highly complimented by General Wayne for his great bravery and efficiency in the Indian wars. When the Indians had been subdued, and treaties of peace with them ratified, Captain Harrison resigned his commission in 1797, and immediately received from the elder President Adams the appointment of Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwestern Territory. The geographers of that day represented on their maps of the United States a vast country west of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio, which was given the convenient name of the Northwestern Territory, as a boundary on the West and North.

At first there was a new territory designated, called Indiana (taken from the Indian country). This included not only the present State of Indiana, but those of Illinois, Michigan and Missouri. The one gave us Lincoln for President, and now gives Grant; while Indiana furnishes the popular Speaker of the House of Representatives, Schuyler Colfax, for the second office in the gift of the nation.

The first Governor of the vast Territory of Indiana was General Harrison, who was also at the head of Indian affairs. Historical records prove that it was at this time in his power to have amassed great wealth, without departure from strict principles of rectitude; but Harrison was not moderately honest—he did not even think what he could do for himself; he labored for his country. He died poor in this world's goods, but rich in honor and spotless integrity. To no man is our country so much indebted for the peaceful acquisition of Indian Territory, and for advantageous treaties with these troublesome neighbors.

The celebrated Indian Chief, Tecumseh, and his brother, called the Prophet, were of the Shawnee Tribe. These leaders formed the grand scheme to instigate all the powerful Indian tribes to join in a confederacy against the United States; or, as was suspected, they were influenced by British emissaries from Canada, who were busy in forming alliances with the Indian Chiefs.—These operations resulted in a formidable war with the savages. The battle of Tippecanoe, on the Southern branch of the Wabash, is considered one of the most memorable and decisive conflicts with the Indians, and in this, Harrison, who was the commanding officer, as the Legislatures of Kentucky and Indiana set forth in their resolutions, behaved "like a hero, a patriot, and a general." But to no man in public life is it permitted to live without enemies; there were those who traduced Harrison, and he gladly went into retirement after a long life of both military and civil service.

In a plain home, at North Bend, on the Ohio river, his door was ever open to the way-worn traveler, as well as to the rich and great. But as Cincinnatus was called from his plow to save Rome, so was Harrison sought out in his retirement to become the head of the nation. His straitened circumstances had rendered it necessary for him to labor for the support of his family; and instead of appealing to the gratitude of his country for his life-long services, he cheerfully accepted the office of clerk to the court in the county where he resided, and which office he retained until his election to the Presidency in 1840.

President Harrison was inaugurated on the fourth of March, 1841. His death in the April following was deeply lamented throughout the country, and caused great and unexpected changes in the management of the affairs of the nation, and an almost entire revolution in the Cabinet which Harrison had called around him.

We have before us two lithograph likenesses representing Harrison and Tyler; the former is grave, a full eye opening under shaggy eye-brows, the perceptive faculties more fully developed than those of the imagination; the straight gray hair is parted over the forehead with puritanic simplicity; the ear is large, betokening generosity.—There is a somewhat pensive cast of countenance, indicating a life of care and hardship. The large nose and mouth betoken a masculine character. The whole physiognomy is that which we might expect to see in the portrait of William Henry Harrison. The longer we contemplate it, the more we become impressed with its faithful delineation of the Hero of Tippecanoe, the unselfish Indian Agent, the faithful and disinterested Governor of the Indian Territory, the conscientious politician, who went for country rather than party; the great General, and the laborious Clerk of the county. Such was Harrison, whose life was cut off at the moment when he was at the pinnacle of greatness. His last words were expressive of his wishes and principles—they seemed intended for his successor—"Sir, I wish you to understand the principles of the government. I wish them carried out. I ask nothing more."

The other likeness is that of John Tyler, which we will describe in our next article. It differs from that of Harrison, as his character and principles of action differed.

It is proposed to celebrate the 4th of July, 1870, in Philadelphia by a grand musical jubilee to beat the late Boston jubilee. A building is to be erected to accommodate 100,000 spectators and 12,000 performers.

AS THE new Registry Law, endorsed by the Supreme Court, practically dispenses with the further use, in Pennsylvania, of "coffee-soaked naturalization papers," and the services of Mr. WALLACE are no longer needed in that line, that gentleman has been displaced from the Chairmanship of the Democratic State Committee, and WILLIAM A. GALBRAITH, of Erie, substituted. The latter will have the privilege of dealing out the money with which Packer expects to buy up the freemen of Pennsylvania.

THE State Teachers' Association, which is to meet at Greensburg on the tenth of August, promises to be a complete success. The people of Greensburg have already made arrangements to give the teachers a hearty welcome. All the ladies who may attend will be entertained free of charge and gentlemen at the rate of from $1 to $1.50 per day. Teachers paying full fare over the railroads to Greensburg, will be returned free of charge.

WHEN the war commenced JOHN W. GEARY took his oldest son and went into the Union army to fight for the old flag. He fought through the whole struggle, and was severely wounded.—His son was killed. ASA PACKER when the war broke out opposed the coercion of the Rebels and went to Europe! He continued a Peace Democrat to the end, and supported Andy Johnson's Reconstruction Policy. The Rebel element, led by Brick Pomeroy, was uppermost at the Harrisburg Convention, and in Asa Packer found a candidate in thorough accord with their views.

THE Lutheran Observer, published in Philadelphia, has passed under the exclusive editorial management of Rev. F. W. Conrad, D. D. The Observer is the leading organ of the English branch of the Lutheran Church, has a large circulation, and wields a corresponding influence in that denomination. Dr. Conrad is a gentleman of ability, a pungent writer, sound theologian, thoroughly evangelical in his views, and eminently qualified for the responsible position assigned him.—The substitution of one for three editors ought to secure greater unity and ...ency in the editorial management paper.

FRANK HUGHES, the author of the Democratic platform adopted at Harrisburg, is well known as an out-and-out Rebel sympathizer all through the war. This accounts for the fact that while the platform roundly abuses loyal men, not a word can be found in it, from beginning to end, in denunciation of the traitors who plunged the country into Civil War and by means of the Slaveholder's Rebellion sought to break up the Union and destroy the Government. It is the old issue between loyalty and disloyalty—between Freedom and Slavery—the same issue which floored McClellan, Seymour, Woodward, and Hiester, and which must inevitably floor Asa Packer.

THE Reading Times is ventilating Asa Packer's love for the poor man.—The Times says that Mr. Packer amassed a colossal fortune by grinding the faces of the poor. Years ago he made heavy contracts for boating coal to New York, and got a kind of monopoly of the business. He carried his oppression of boatmen so far that they rebelled against him, and resorted to a strike. He went to South Easton, where the boatmen had congregated, to compel them to continue in his service; "but so violent was the feeling against him that he was seized by the men, thrown into the Lehigh, and would have been drowned but for a timely rescue. So exasperated were the men against Packer, that they drove the man who had saved his life from the ground with stones!" A fortune wrung out of the sweat of other men does not carry with it any great merit, however effective it may be in buying Democratic conventions.

THE National Debt, under the prudent administration of President GRANT, is steadily going down, partly by reason of a more faithful collection of revenue taxes, and partly by reason of rigid economy and reduced expenditures. The estimates of the Treasury Department make it probable that the debt statement for August will show a reduction of about nine millions in the month of July, making a total of forty-three millions since March 4. It is anticipated by Secretary Boutwell that he will be able to reduce the debt the first year of his administration fifty millions of dollars. There are seven months left, but the receipts in those months are not expected to come up very much beyond the expenses of the Government. There will be fifteen millions of dollars to be paid out in August and September, on account of the pension list, and in the fall months the drafts of the War Department for quartermaster and commissionary stores for the winter season are always heavy.

SURRENDER OF THE LORDS.

The struggle in England over the Irish Church Disestablishment Bill has ended, as we predicted it would, in a triumph of the Commons. On Wednesday night of last week the House of Lords, by a decisive vote, re-inserted its amendments to the Bill, which the Commons had struck out, the leading conservative Peers making defiant speeches and announcing their willingness to assume the responsibility of the issue thus made. Shortly after the vote was announced, Mr. Gladstone entered the House of Commons and was received with tumultuous demonstrations of applause, which for some minutes defied the efforts of the presiding officer to preserve order. The Prime Minister quietly announced that the Government could not abandon the principle of the bill and would insist on Disestablishment and Disendowment, which announcement was greeted with loud cheers by his Liberal supporters.

The issue was thus made up. But before twenty-four hours had passed, the temper of the Lords had cooled down, and with it their determination to stand by the consequences of their vote of the previous night. It leaking out that it was Gladstone's purpose to recall the Bill from the House of Lords, prorogue Parliament, and next fall present a new Bill, probably more radical than the present one, and under circumstances that would compel the Lords to accept it, the Peers became alarmed, held a consultation, and sent Lord Cairns to Gladstone to negotiate a "compromise." The result was an agreement by the Prime Minister to waive one or two unessential points in the Bill, in consideration of the Lords agreeing to accept the main provisions covering Disestablishment and Disendowment—all of which was ratified by decisive votes on Thursday night.

Thus ends another struggle between hereditary and representative legislation in England, and with the usual result—a triumph of the popular will. The threatened collision between the two great principles contending for supremacy in English politics has been averted, and the Lords, while yielding everything, preserve their nominal prerogatives as part of the legislative power. The issue is bound to come up again, and sooner or latter this anomaly in governmental policy will be swept away.

THE nomination by the Copperhead State Convention, of Judge PACKER, a stay-at-home Democrat during the War, to run against Gov. GEARY, who gallantly fought for the Union all through the war, was a weak play of political cards. The only thing to be said in its favor, is Packer's enormous wealth. He will be made to bleed freely during the campaign, and the various local Democratic Committees will have a good time of it spending his money. The idea of the political gamblers, who controlled the Convention, seems to have been that the best way to carry the next election, will be to buy enough votes to insure success. The contest is to be one of money vs. brains—spoils vs. principle. The New York Evening Post thus alludes to the contest:

"John W. Geary, the Republican candidate and the present Governor, is a gentleman of the highest integrity and of acknowledged abilities. A great part of his life has been spent in the public service, and he has made no fortune and has no claim to an election except upon his character and talents. For many years an earnest Democrat, the trusted friend of Polk and Buchanan, chosen by the latter when President as the best man in his party to administer the affairs of Kansas with justice to all parties, and so to save his waning popularity in the Northern States. Mr. Geary left the Democrats with reluctance, and only when he found that nothing but injustice on his part could satisfy them. Never were freemen more directly asked to choose between money and merit than in this contest; and it is fair to say something more than the Governor's chair is at stake in it—the good fame of Pennsylvania, and the character of her voters for independence and purity."

THE Pennsylvania Democracy are reluctant to learn the lessons of current events, and cling with dogged resolution to the dead issues of the past.—Just now they are making a renewed fight over the interminable "nigger," just as if it were a new issue, and the XVth Amendment an open question. The Democracy of other States thoroughly understand the true position of things and are preparing for the new order of things. In Connecticut, a few months ago, they went it strong against Manhood Suffrage and lost. In Virginia, a few weeks ago, they went it strong for Manhood Suffrage and won. Even in Kentucky the more astute politicians are waking up to the necessity of abandoning dead issues, to preserve the life of the party. The Louisville Journal, one of their prominent organs, in a recent number thus accepts the situation:

"There is a certainty that the elections of the coming fall will be the last that will ever take place in Kentucky with negro suffrage excluded. This is a fact that we had better look square in the face, much as may loathe its visage. Everybody knows that, immediately after the reassembling of Congress, the Fifteenth Amendment will be declared to have been ratified by the requisite number of States and be part of the Constitution; and then the negroes of this State will be voters, and cannot be disfranchised by them from the polls except successful war against the United States, and that, whether it would be righteous or unrighteous, will not be attempted."

THE Chicago Tribune says the nomination of Asa Packer by the Democracy, whose standing candidate for all offices they couldn't get he has been for twenty years, means that money has been expended, and that more is coming. The Tribune concludes:

"We do not know exactly how many millions of dollars it would require to carry Pennsylvania for the Democracy, but as Judge Sharswood decides against the registry law, and as coffee-soaked naturalization papers are plenty, and repeaters and ballot-stuffers can be had on fair terms, 10 per cent off for cash, it is hard to say what may not be done."

Judge Sharswood's decision has been reversed by the Supreme Court, who hold the Registry law to be constitutional. "Coffee-soaked naturalization paper" will be cheaper than the Tribune supposed, as their use this fall will somewhat hazardous. "Repeaters" and "ballot-stuffers" will also find their occupation gone. Packer's money will have to be scattered among the township politicians; or he can follow Wallace's tactics, and offer a round sum per head for every vote that can be bought.

THE editor of the New York Citizen —a Democratic paper—takes it for granted that the nomination of Asa Packer means defeat. Hear him:

"WANT A WHIPPING.—Our Democratic friends of Pennsylvania must need a flagellation. They have taken off their coats and stepped up to the whipping-post once more. We hope the Republicans will lay it on well this time."

HERE is how they look upon the Pennsylvania canvass in Delaware.—The Wilmington Commercial says:

"Packer's money is all the theme of discussion in Pennsylvania. The Democrats are delighted with their hopes of handling it, and the Republicans at the certainty of its being spent for nothing."

MR. PACKER is said to be the wealthiest man in Pennsylvania. How much he is worth we do not know or care to know. It is enough to say that he is a Railroad King, a contractor, and a stock gambler, and has been eminent in the lowest order of intellectual ability—that of a money getter. While GEARY was shedding his blood to preserve our government, PACKER was intent on self. When our armies were defeated, and our candidate was bearing the smarts of defeat and wounds with soldierly fortitude, PACKER was keenly watching the fluctuations of the stock exchange, and buying in stocks which our defeats depressed. When victory rested on our banners and GEARY was bleeding on the victorious field over the body of his dead soldier son, PACKER was adding to his hoard by sales of stocks which the wounds of our heroes had caused to advance in value. He traded in patriotic blood, and the patriots in whose blood he traded will neither support his ambition, nor accept his blood-money. They are made of sterner stuff than he and his managing bullies imagine, and the second Tuesday of October will teach the speculator how he has miscalculated the force of their contempt, and the power of his purse. Buying a Democratic convention, led by a law breaker, is one thing; buying the governorship of Pennsylvania is another matter, as he will find to his sorrow.—Beaver Argus.

THE Convention of School Superintendents, which met in Harrisburg last week, passed resolutions in favor of having School Directors sworn for the faithful performance of their duties; asking the Legislature to repeal the law exempting mortgages, judgments, &c., from taxation for school purposes, as determental to the interests of the common schools; providing for the better support of the poorer districts by an equalized or uniform system of taxation; and for a law allowing the county Superintendents to apply a portion of the county funds in defraying the expenses of county institutes.—Prof. Wickersham, State Superintendent, announced that he was preparing the draft of a new School Law to be submitted to the next Legislature. He had called together the County Superintendents to secure a conference of views as to the wants of the system, and he would endeavor, as far as practicable, to have their views carried out.

WHEN Judge WILLIAMS was a candidate for the Supreme Court two years ago, he was assailed by the Democratic press all over the State as a "carpet-bagger" and "interloper." It was his fortune to have been born in Connecticut. Now the same Democrats have nominated Packer, another native of Connecticut, as their candidate for Governor. Shall we hear anything more about "carpet-baggers?"

A FEW FACTS ABOUT THE "NIGGER."

1. The whole number of colored people in the United States is 4,418,294.

2. Averaging the number of votes which this population can cast, in a very full poll, at 1 in 7, the number of negro votes is 631,185.

3. The State which now permit the negro to vote contain a colored population of 3,341,802, and consequently, the number of enfranchised negroes now is 477,401.

4. The negro population in the States which have not yet enfranchised that race is 1,976,492, and the number of negroes yet to enfranchise is 153,785.

5. The total number of negroes in Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, and Tennessee is 830,447, and the number of negro voters in these States, if enfranchised, would be 118,635.

6. The number left in the balance of the non-negro voting States is, population 246,045: votes, 35,150, as follows:

	Colored Population.	Negro Votes.
California	4,086	584
Connecticut	8,627	1,232
Illinois	7,628	1,090
Indiana	11,428	1,633
Michigan	6,799	971
Nevada	43	6
Nebraska	82	12
New Jersey	25,336	3,620
New York	40,005	5,715
Ohio	36,673	5,240
Oregon	128	18
Pennsylvania	56,949	8,136
West Virginia	48,000	6,888

7. The proportion which the colored vote would bear to the white vote, if the XVth amendment be passed, is as follows:

California	1 colored to	186	white
Connecticut	1 "	80	"
Illinois	1 "	412	"
Indiana	1 "	210	"
Michigan	1 "	232	"
West Virginia	1 "	7	"
Nebraska	1 "	1,264	"
Nevada	1 "	1,949	"
New Jersey	1 "	45	"
New York	1 "	149	"
Ohio	1 "	99	"
Oregon	1 "	1,226	"
Pennsylvania	1 "	76	"

8. Will this proportion of votes, given by an "inferior race," be likely soon to enslave the "proud Caucasian?"

MENAGERIE IN A STORM.—The Davenport (Iowa) Gazette of the 14th says:—"On Monday, Bailey & Co.'s Menagerie and Circus exhibited at Muscatine. The tent was struck at 11 p. m., and the show started for Davenport. Before a dozen miles had been traversed a terrific storm let loose its lightning, thunder and water. The lightning was blinding in its brilliancy, the thunder was terrific, and the rain, violently driven by the wind, came down in sheets. A panic seized the whole cavalcade—men, horses and animals seemed terror-stricken. Eight of the drivers deserted their teams, and it was not long before wagons and horses were in inextricable confusion—a jammed up mass of floundering animals and overturned vehicles. The darkness, save when lightning illuminated the scene, was impenetrable. The caged lions, tigers, leopards, wolves and other beasts, became frightened, and bounded from side to side of their prisons, and roared and growled, and shrieked in very terror. The lightning came nearer and nearer, until its thunder seemed to break in the midst of the caravan. The elephants laid down in the road, and refused to move. Three of the horses were struck by lightning and killed. It is a wonder that no human lives were lost. At daybreak the scene presented beggars description. Imagine it from the above account of the night's experience. It was the worst adventure that ever befell a circus in this portion of the West. The show reached Davenport at a late hour in the day, men and teams well nigh exhausted by the terrible night's work and the hard journey which followed it."

WHEN the wind storm came up in Hunterdon, N. J., last Friday afternoon, George Kuhl, of Copper Hill, was just tying the cap ahead of a stack of wheat. The wind struck the stack, and Mr. Kuhl found himself sliding off with the top, and landed in the wagon, which was standing alongside. A ladder standing against the stack was blown over, striking the mules across the back, which frightened them, and away they went over the fields on a wild run for the barn. On their way they took a short cut through the peach orchard, running against more than thirty peach trees, of four years' growth, every one of which was either broken off or torn out. Mr. K. remained in the wagon all the time, and says he never had such a jolting up as he then experienced.

THE Democrats are not pleased with Mr. Boutwell's very successful management of our National Treasury. His rapid reduction of the public debt is falsifying all their evil predictions, and they are consequently unhappy. Gen. Grant and the Republican party have pledged themselves to "economy, retrenchment, and the payment of the public debt," and they mean to fulfil their pledge if it makes miserable every Democrat in the country.

MRS. Stephens, mother of J. W. Stephens, of Yanceyville, Ga., Senator in the Legislature, says the Milton, (Ga.) Chronicle, was found in her room Wednesday evening of last week, a lifeless corpse, with her throat cut, apparently by falling with her neck on an earthen bowl, a rimmed vessel, that broke in two places and cut her throat, severing the jugular vein as if cut by a knife, and breaking her neck bone.

DEMOCRATS, and Pennsylvania Democratic newspapers in particular, have nearly always heretofore looked upon New England "Yankees" with scorn. We have not heard a single denunciation of New England "Yankeeism" since the nomination of Asa Packer. Why?—he has born in "Yankee land," and has overcome and conquered by a pure "Yankee" trick. Verily, New England will soon be embraced by the whole Democratic clan.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

HORRIBLE DEATH.—The Erie Dispatch says: "A telegram has been received at Girard, announcing that Charles White, the lion tamer, traveling with Thayer's Menagerie, was actually eaten up by the lions on Friday night, in a small town in Michigan. He is said to have been struck on the shoulder by the very same lion that came so near killing him at Rochester, knocked down, and before they could be beaten off, had torn him to pieces and devoured the greater portion of his body.

AN APPROPRIATE COAT OF ARMS.—Anton Klaus, Mayor of Green Bay, Wis., and one of its wealthiest and most influential citizens, began his career as a wood sawyer, and like a true American nobleman is not ashamed of his humble origin, for the fact proves that his present wealth and distinction are due solely to his talents and energy. "In the hall of his splendid residence," says the Advocate, "is a niche, left for a bust or statuette. In this niche his children have placed a small saw buck, with a wood saw hanging over it, and the inscription, 'Papa's First Saw Mill.'"

ANDREW JOHNSON DISPOSED OF.

Most of our timid and peace-loving people have been sorely perturbed by the announcements, published from time to time, that Andrew Johnson, of Constitutional Veto and Impeachment memory, was soon again to play a prominent part in public life as United States Senator from Tennessee. These portentous intimations have reached the home of our eccentric and loquacious ex-President, and his fellow-citizens hasten to deny the truth of the report. They were manufactured to Johnson's order, no doubt, as he understands matters of that sort probably as well as any man living, and a shrewd advertising agent, fertile in expedients and persistent of purpose, was lost to the world when Mr. Andrew Johnson became Alderman of Greenville. A leading conservative Republican journal of Tennessee, says that Mr. Johnson's help in the present gubernatorial campaign in that State is not needed, and "that the absurd and malignant harangues which he is now making are calculated to do much mischief." It concludes this explanation by saying:—

"We cannot close without declaring, for the satisfaction of our friends at a distance, that there is not the smallest danger of Mr. Johnson ever being sent again to the National Senate from this State. His public career is at an end forever, as he will himself ascertain in a few weeks. The people of Tennessee are not yet mad enough to feel interested in needlessly getting up hostile relations between themselves and those at present in power in Washington City."

And so the self-styled preserver of the Constitution, dispenser of stars, disturber of the South, and wrong-headed demagogue, par excellence, is repudiated in his own State. The Tennesseans evidently have a just appreciation of their ex-alderman, member of the Legislature, &c. Having by their aid swung around the circle of official preferment, it is fitting that, by their assistance, he should be sent off at a tangent into the obscurity of private life, where we hope his days may be many and quiet.—Phila. Inquirer.

THE ECUMENICAL COUNCIL.—A Florence letter of a recent date says that as the interval between the present and the time of meeting of the Ecumenical Council diminishes the attention given to it in public discussions increases. So many varying statements are made that very little trustworthy information is obtained, and one hardly knows what to believe. Changes have been made in the original plan of the amphitheatre in the left tribune of St. Peter's where the meetings are to be held, and it would appear that the Prelates are to be made so comfortable that one is led to the supposition that the Council is to have protracted continuance. Each member is to have before him a praying stool, which, by a mechanical contrivance, can be in a moment converted into a writing desk. Besides Cardinals and Bishops, it is not yet positively known who and what is to have the privilege of sluting in the Council. The place of meeting is to be as imposing and beautiful as the artisan and decorator can make it, and most of the time between now and December will probably be needed to complete the work.

FEARFUL DEATH OF A YOUNG WIFE.—The wife of Hezekiah Greenlee, of Mason county, West Virginia, was instantly killed one day last week, under the following circumstances: In company with her husband, she was returning home by a near path through the woods from a neighbor's where her husband had been at work during the day. They were walking hand in hand, not dreaming of any danger, when a dead tree they had just passed suddenly fell, brushing the shoulder of Greenlee and striking his wife on the top of the head, crushing her to the earth in one solid mass, breaking every bone in her body, so that her remains could not be recognized as those of a human being. Strange to say Mr. Greenlee was not injured in the least, further than being stunned for a few moments. The evening was a calm one, and it is supposed that the tree, which was rotten at the roots, gave way from its own weight. Mrs. Greenlee had been married a little less than six weeks.

A BOY LIFTED BY A KITE.—The Vicksburg Times of the 10th instant relates the following incident: "A young lad at Lake Station, Mississippi, had a very large and beautiful kite presented to him, about six feet by four in size, which he attempted to raise on the 2d instant, just as the wind was increasing, and a storm threatening. The wind drew the kite so heavily as to drag the boy along also. To prevent losing the favorite, he wound the cord around his body. At last the gust bore kite and boy along in the rapid air currents. The boy seemed to be about one hundred feet above the earth, and the kite five times that distance. At last the young kite-flier caught in the top of a tree, and was suspended seventy-five feet above the ground. A flood of rain came on, slackening the line, abating the wind, and allowing the little sufferer to be rescued. He was found to be unconscious, and so bruised and marred as to be scarcely recognized: but was restored the same evening, and is now doing well."

THE GRAND ARMY.—New opportunities are opening to the boys of the Grand Army of the Republic. The National Encampment is about to established a co-operative life insurance association, whose policy holders shall consist only of members, and all of whom are entitled to equal insurance without regard to age or health. The investments will be made in United States bonds, and when the association expires, which will be with the last of our Union soldiers, the funds, computed at over $100,000,000, will be devoted to the education of soldiers' children and the liquidation of the national debt. The fees will be cheap, the results certain, and the investment profitable. This new feature in its organization will increase the usefulness of the Grand Army.

THE Navy Department has determined to organize a torpedo corps. This corps will consist of one head and such officers as may be detailed from time to time for instruction and service. The corps will be under the direction of the Bureau of Ordnance, so far as the material and the direction of the experiments is concerned. Torpedo stations will be established at Portsmouth, N. H., Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Norfolk, Pensacola and Mare Island. Other stations will be added as occasion may require. A suitible place will be selected where all officers entering upon this service will be sent for instructions and to witness experiments.

A DEMOCRATIC State Convention has actually constructed a platform without mentioning the Fifteenth Amendment. This surprising exploit was performed at Des Moines by the Democracy of Iowa. They denounced the Maine liquor law, a high protective tariff, and so on, but laid a resolve against the Amendment upon the table. This is encouraging, and proves the utility of being beaten. A long succession of severe defeats has chastened the Democracy of Iowa into a degree of good sense that their brethren in some other States have not yet attained.

THE National camp-meeting at Round Lake New York, attracted people from the Old World as well as from Canada, and every one of the States, except, perhaps, Louisiana, Texas and Florida. The love-feast and the sermon of Bishop Simpson were the great events of the Sabbath. During the love-feast of an hour and a half three hundred and sixty spoke of their Christian experience. The sermon of the Bishop was one of overwhelming power, fully sustaining his great reputation as a pulpit orator.

When near the top, the Dr. got out to pick some blackberries, when the horse became frightened and commenced backing. The road being narrow and the mountain side at that point very steep, Miss Long jumped from the buggy, just as the horse and buggy rolled over and down the mountain side a distance of about 60 feet, when they lodged against a tree. Dr. Long procured aid and relieved the horse from his uncomfortable position, rather demoralived but not seriously injured.

Langston, and other noted colored orators, are expected to be present.—The ceremony of "breaking ground" on the Frederick and Pa. Line Railroad was to take place yesterday, (Thursday,) at Woodsboro.

WASHINGTON.—Mr. J. B. M'Cleary, formerly a well known citizen of Hagerstown, died in St. Josephs, Missouri, on the 16th inst.—Mr. Benjamin Kidder, of Boonsboro, while pitching grain on a rack, on the 16th inst., was suddenly prostrated by sunstroke, and died fifteen minutes afterwards.—A little child of Theodore Hawthorn, died a few days since, in Hagerstown, from swallowing a small portion of condensed lye.—The dwelling of Daniel J. THE landing of the new Atlantic cable was commemorated by a grand celebration at Duxbury on Tuesday. There was a salute, a dinner, and a levee, and an immense crowd of people, distinguished and undistinguished, present. Congratulatory despatches were exchanged between the Mayor of Boston and the Perfect of Paris.

A WASHINGTON correspondent states that a German banker has offered to loan our Government three hundred million dollars at five per cent. interest, but Secretary Bout well has declined it, as he has reason to believe that he can next winter borrow money enough at four and one-half per cent. to take up the five-twenties now due.

MICH INVESTING IN GREENBACKS.—The Milwaukee Daily Wisconsin of the 12th says:—

An industrious wood sawyer named Ritzel, a German, living in the Ninth Ward, had, by dint of hard labor, saved $500. He had no confidence in banks, so he put the money in a stocking and stowed it away behind a rafter in his house. Some days after upon going to look for his money, he found that the mice had made sad havoc with it. They had chewed the bills up into the finest bits and made for themselves the softest kink of nests. The poor woodsawyer was in despair. He gathered the fragments and they made a peck measure heaping full of scraps, stocking wool, nut shells, &c., and what to do he did not know. A friend advised him to send the whole mass to the Treasury Department at Washington, and he did so. This was several weeks ago, and not a word did the old man hear of the money until last Saturday, when he received a draft for $250 from the Treasury Department, and a letter stating that so much only had been saved out of the $500. Two girls in the department were at work seventeen days sorting, picking, and pasting, and had finally succeeded in getting $250 so that it could be recognized. This amount was sent on. Ritger paid the man who advised and assisted in sending to the Treasury Department, $10, and is glad to get out with so little loss. With German coolness he said if he had put the money in bank, it might have all been lost—now he had saved nearly half of it. We do not believe he will use old stockings as a bank to any great extent hereafter.

ACCIDENT TO J. A. J. CRESWELL.—We regret to learn that Postmaster General Creswell met with a painful accident on Saturday evening. Whilst sitting on the porch of his father-in-law's residence (Rev. James McIntire,) near Elkton, he accidentally moved his chair too near the edge of the porch, and was precipitated to the ground, falling with great force on his left arm. Some of the smaller bones near the elbow were fractured, causing great pain, though producing no serious injury.

LAY DELEGATION.—Since our last issue, says the New York Methodist of the 24th instant, we have heard from a large number of churches, the votes of which amount to 12,432, of which 8,999 are for lay delegation, and 3,433 against. This, with our previous vote, gives an aggregate vote of 107,605, of which 78,536 are affirmative, and 29,071 in the negative, giving a majority for lay delegation of 49,465.

DVERTISING MEDIUM,

THE STAR AND SENTINEL

The Star and Sentinel.

Gettysburg, Friday, July 30, 1869.

APPOINTED.—George P. Guldon has been appointed Postmaster at Granite Hill, vice Daniel Guldon, deceased.

CONSECRATED.—The new Reformed church at Emmittsburg will be consecrated to-morrow, the 31st inst. Rev. T. G. Apple, of Mercersburg, will deliver the consecration sermon.

TALL OATS.—Mr. David Shriver, of Cumberland township, last week brought to this office a stock of oats plucked from one of his fields on his way town, which measured six feet in length.

RETURNED.—Mr. John A. Swope, who went to Europe several months ago on account of impared health, reached home last week. We are glad to hear that his health was materially improved by the trip.

ELECTION.—An election will be held to-morrow, (Saturday,) at Heidlersburg, for officers of a new Military Company about being organized. Capt. S. H. Eicholtz has been designated by the Adjutant General to hold the election.

IMPROVING.—The friends of Wm. B. Brandon, Esq., of Kersville, Cumberland county, who suffered amputation of the leg some five or six weeks ago, will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly improving, being now able to move about with crutches.

COLORED CAMP MEETING.—There will be a Camp meeting of the Gettysburg and York Circuit of the African Methodist Episcopal Churches, in Wolf's Grove, east of Gettysburg, commencing on the 19th of August, under the charge of Rev. D. Stevens. They expect to have the assistance of some of their ablest Ministers.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. B. F. Rabter, of Littlestown, had one of his ankles severely sprained on the 15th inst., while jumping from a buggy. One of the front wheels had given way, and Mr. R. sprang from the buggy to secure the horse, but got his foot entangled with the wheel, causing him to fall.

ARM BROKEN.—We are informed that Mr Sowers, of Hamilton township, Adams county, broke an arm one day last week. He was in the act of correcting a horse, when the animal threw his head round and knocked Mr. S.'s arm against the haines, breaking it between the wrist and elbow.—Hanover Citizen.

PAID.—On Wednesday last the Adams County Mutual Fire Insurance Company, though its Executive Committee, issued an order on the Treasurer for $600, in favor of Col. John Wolford, being the amount of insurance on Col. Wolford's barn, which was struck by lightning on the 31st ult., and burned.

AN IMPOSTOR.—The Allentown Democrat cautions the Odd Fellows of the State against a person giving the name of Rice, who, is on a collecting misson, as he is an arrant impostor. He is about 28 years of age, of medium size and build, dark complexion, and tells his story in such a pathetic way as to induce almost any person who hears him to invest.

A CONVENIENCE.—We understand that arrangements have been made to establish a Baggage Depot in this place which will be under the charge of responsible parties. Passengers arriving in the trains can leave their checks at the Ticket office, and their baggage will be delivered wherever ordered. Persons intending to leave in the cars can have their baggage called for at their residences and deliver at the depot.

RATTLESNAKES.—Last week, while Henry Clever and Isaac Warren were in the South Mountain gathering berries, in the vicinity of Clever's Ore Bank, they suddenly came on a den of rattlesnakes, which they at once attacked, but only succeeded in killing thirteen of the reptiles. It is supposed that twice that number escaped unhurt. Eight of the snakes were so closely entwined that one blow from a stone killed them in that condition.

PERSONAL.—We notice by the Harrisburg papers that Joseph G. Gitt, Esq., Civil Engineer, of New Oxford, has been employed by the Commissioners of Harrisburg to make a survey of that city, and to lay out an addition of two miles South and East of the present City limits, into streets and avenues, with the proper grades. Mr. Gitt has been engaged on the work for several week, and it will probably occupy his time during the summer and fall.

AN AMUSING TRICK.—The latest indoor amusement is termed the "printer's delight," and is performed in the following manner: Take a sheet of note paper, fold it carefully, and inclose a bank note sufficiently large to pay up arrears, and a year in advance. And what adds immensely to the feat, is to send along the name of a new subscriber "with cash to balance." Keep your eye on the printer, and if you detect a smile, the trick is a success. Try it.

SAILED.—Hon. EDWARD MCPHERSON sailed from Baltimore, for Europe, on Wednesday, in the steamer Liepsig, of the Bremen line. Impaired health, consequent upon the exacting demands of official duties and literary engagements, has induced him to make the trip. He expects to be absent about three months, first visiting England, Scotland and Ireland, and afterwards the continent, probably as far as Constantinople. He is accompanied by his newphew, JOHN B. MCPHERSON, Esq., of Harrisburg.

A number of Mr. McPherson's personal friends in Baltimore accompanied him to the steamer to see him off, among them Archibald Stirling, Esq., Geo. C. Maund, Esq., J. W. Clayton, E. Fulton, of the Baltimore American, Gen. Dennison, Gen. Bowerman, and others.

☞The Shippensburg News of Friday last, has the following item:

MONEY STOLEN.—On Thursday afternoon, Isaac P. Wagner, of Adams county, made complaint before Justice Buts that he had been robbed of sixty-two dollars of money. It appears the aforesaid was stopping at the "Traveler's Rest" and had sold a horse, for which he received the amount he alleges has been stolen from him. From the evidence in the case, Wagner was so much intoxicated that he was taken to the stable to sleep "off his load," and on coming to himself found he was minus the price of the horse. Where the money is, remains a mystery. Sixty-two dollars is a big price for a drunk.

RUNAWAY.—On the evening of the 16th ult., Rev. Mr. Chester, of this place, made a providential escape from serious injury. He was driving a buggy in York street, having two of his children with him. The horse took fright, and ran off, breaking the carriage, and throwing the little girl from the buggy. Providentially all were saved from serious injury.

One day last week, the horse belonging to Rev. Mr. Ballwalder, of Conowago Chapel ran off, breaking the buggy to pieces. Mr. B. had got out of the buggy but a few moments before the horse made off. The horse was caught near Hanover.

CONVENTION.—The Democratic County Convention has been called to meet in Gettysburg, on Monday the 9th of August, to nominate a County ticket.—The Convention will have a lively time in making selections from the host of candidates struggling for position. No less than twenty-four have already announced themselves, while it is understood that others, who have been quietly laying the wires, expect to steal a march on those now before the public by springing their names on the Convention. Of these 24, one seeks to be Director of the Poor, 4 County Treasurer, 4 Register and Recorder, 6 Clerk of the Courts, while 9 aspire to the Sheriffalty.

RAILROAD SURVEY.—We learn that our friend, Joseph H. Gitt, engineer, with a corp of assistants, last week surveyed a new route for the proposed Bachman's Valley Railroad, starting at Leib's Bridge, on the Hanover Branch Railroad, and from thence running south-east through Heidleberg and Manheim twps., York county, via Klinefalterville, and entering Maryland near Wentz's Church, in Carroll county, intersecting the line run last fall by engineer Ames, between Kroh's and Tracey's Mills, on the head of the Gunpowder Falls, and ending at the extensive Ore Banks in Bachman's Valley. This route is the most favorable and practical one that has been surveyed, passing through a fine rich country, with light grades. There are extensive deposits of Iron Ore, of excellent quality, throughout the whole section of the county through which the road is to pass, the transportation of which alone will more than repay the cost of construction. It appears to be generally understood that this road will be built stan early day.—Hanover Spectator.

CORRECTION.—A few weeks ago, in noticing the report of President Muhlenberg, of Muhlenberg College, made to the Pennsylvania Synod, we expressed our surprise at a proposition to transfer the funds of the German Professorship in Pennsylvania College to Muhlenberg College. We were surprised at the proposition, because of Prof. Muhlenberg's thorough acquaintance with the status of the funds, and the proposition to transfer them was utterly inconsistent with the reputation of Prof. M. as a gentleman of high-toned honor and integrity. We are glad to be informed that the official report of the proceedings, as they appeared in the papers, did Prof. Muhlenberg injustice in that it ignored the essential fact that the proposition to transfer was based on the contingency of Pa. College first surrendering its claims to the funds, in any negotiations between the College and the Synod. We make this explanation as an act justice to Prof. M.

SWINDLERS.—A week or two ago a stranger hired a horse and buggy from a livery stable in the upper part of Cumberland county, for the purpose of going into the country a short distance. No trace of the horse and buggy could be found until the 13th inst., when the Hanover Citizen states it was ascertained that the horse and buggy had been sold to Mr. Houser, in New Oxford, for $95.00 and a watch, the latter valued at about $25.—The property was taken possession of by the owner, leaving Mr. Houser minus $12.00. The thief made good his escape.

The Citizen further states that a young man who had been working in the neighborhood of New Oxford for some time, but otherwise a stranger, called on Mr. Houser on Saturday last for the loan of a horse and buggy for a few hours to take a ride into the country. The horse and buggy were given, but the borrower forgot to return them. Mr. Houser recovered his horse and buggy in York.

VALUBEE RECIPE.—The Ohio Cultivator says the following recipe is worth one thousand dollars to every housekeeper: "Take one pound of sal soda and half a pound of unslacked lime and put them in a gallon of water, boil twenty minutes, let it stand till cool, then drain off and put in a small jug or jar; soak your dirty clothes over night, or until they are wet through, then wring them, and rub plenty of soap, and with water, add one tea-cupful of the washing fluid; boil half an hour or more, rinse, and your clothes will look better than by the old way of washing twice before boiling. This is an invaluable recipe and every poor, tired woman should try it."

STILL ADVERTISING!—What's the use of advertising a place so well known to the entire community as is the great Clothing House of Wanamaker & Brown? This is a question often asked and the editor of this paper, as it is a question which intimately concerns him, answers.

1st. There are still a few people who are not yet customers at Oak Hall and Oak Hall is after them.

2d. Much as the people know of the "Largest Clothing House," there are improvements constantly being made and new features ever being introduced, with which they must be made acquainted.

3d. The proprietors like above all things to gratify the people, and they know that next to buying new clothes at Oak Hall, the people like to read about it and its ever increasing success and popularity. tf

MESSRS. EDITORS:—You doubtless have observed that in New England one can hardly die respectably without bequeathing something to Yale or Harvard. Such legacies are counted honorable, and better monuments than those of brass or stone, and indeed they are! In this way these Institutions, already richly endowed, are supplied with most adequate means to secure the objects of their establishment.—Why is there none of this spirit in our town and county?

Here is Pennsylvania College in our midst, an honor to the community, and a blessing to the State and land, and a continual source of revenue, in many ways, to our immediate community. Many sons of Gettysburg and Adams county, who are honoring their birth, and to whom our citizens point with admonition and pride, received their education at Pennsylvania College, and there received the stimulus and power to become what they are.

And yet how often is this Benefactress remembered by our people in their wills?—Can you recall any legacies left her by our own citizens? Not long ago you chronicled the death of a citizen, who had no near or dependent relatives, and who strangely had made no will; and yet his property is valued at tens of thousands!—Why didn't he think of Pennsylvania College as a blessing to the community and give her means to be a greater one? As I look around, I see one and another, here and there among us, who have means, more or less, and who will not be among us very long. Will they let me suggest to them to do something before they die which will live and bless mankind after they are gone? Would they perpetuate their names? Let them engrave it on minds and hearts rather than on marble or granite! Did their means cost them labor and self-denial? Why then leave it to those who will squander it with as little care as it cost them to gather it, or who will neither enjoy it themselves nor let any one else reap its benefits? Let me recommend the Trustees of Pennsylvania College as good custodians of the people's funds, as those who will use what is committed to them in a way which will bless and not harm our community!—Remember this Institution in your wills—unless you prefer a better way of being your own Executor, and, like Peabody, seeing your benevolence inaugurated in modes of doing good! Our College recently purchased a first class Telescope, which does the students no good because the Institution has no means to mount it.—We have amongus individuals and families who might build an Observatory, to meet the want; and may I suggest that this would be a more notable and, at the same time, useful monument than any they will ever get at Ever-Green Cemetery or in any other grave yard!

Citizens, think of it! O.

GIRLS' ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—There is no possible objection to the accomplishments of music and painting, and the like, but the idea is to be able to set these prior amusements aside temporarily when the stern duties of married life call for your practical knowledge. Show the young men that you can do your part in double business; that you can cook a meal of victuals on a pinch; that you can sweep up, and dust, and darn old stockings, and save a penny towards an accumulated dollar; that you will not be a dead expense to him through life. Believe me my dear young friends, as many true heroic womanly hearts beat over household duties as flutter beneath the soft light of a parlor chandelier. Your kiss is just as sweet, your smile just as bright, your heart as happy and tender, after a day's exertion in a sphere worthy of true womanhood, as in places of dissipation, frip pery and silly amusement. Have an ambition to do your part in life; cultivate industrial habits and let the parlor accomplishments go with the higher accomplishments I have briefly enumerated. It is astonishing how soon a domestic young lady is found out and appreciated. It is because she is such a rare exception to the general rule. I have travelled and seen much, and therefore can advise.

MAGNET.

THE BEST.—Tonics have of late years gained rapidly in public estimation, and are far more generally employed by first-class physicians than they once were. The reason for this is that it is a generally established fact that wholesome tonics used in moderation daily for years do not loose their virtue, neither do they injure the system.—They act in fact like air and exercise, and not as "medicines," which are intended solely for attacks of illness. The BITTER PRINCIPLES, especially those of vegetable origin, all possess the common property of stimulating the appetite, strengthening the nervous system, and of imparting strength. Women generally derive benefit from them even more than men, their system being more liable to debility and exhaustion.—We have again and again in our experience seen the good effects of tonics where the eyes had grown dim and the cheeks pale, and the entire frame showed every indication of exhaustion, nervous suffering and debility.

The best established bitters before the American public are beyond question those of Dr. Stcver, and this is equivalent to declaring that they are the best, since among the scores of really excellent bitters now current, a poor article has no chance of success whatever. The most ignorant person can tell at once by its effects, almost from a single dose, whether any bitters are good or bad. These of Stcver have been sold for thirty years, are composed of sixteen of the safest roots and herbs of a well-known tonic virtue, so skillfully selected and compounded with regard to their mutual effects, that it may be doubted whether any more perfect form of this medicine can be made.

Thousands of persons are exposed to or afflicted with fever and ague, bilious ague or other results of malaria. Let them remember that these bitters are as admirable in such cases, as for diarrhœa and cholera morbus, or any ordinary derangement of the stomach. Try them and be satisfied that they should be in the stores of every family, and the trunk of every traveler.

It is a favorable feature in the advertisement of the proprietors of Dr. Stcver's Tonic Herb Bitters, that no claims are made that they will cure every ill that flesh is heir to. The weakest intellect can hardly be imposed upon when told that this or that remedy will remove every form of disease in every stage, and yet we can not take up the majority of journals without encountering an advertisement declaring that this or that medicine is a nostrum which is a perfect apothecary's shop, and a whole college of physicians in itself, rendering all other cures useless. What is claimed for Dr. Stcver's Bitters is simply that they will act as a good tonic, and are capable of doing as much good as a preparation of bitter principle can. They will not cure incurable diseases, but they will often prevent a certain class of disorders from becoming incurable. The references and certificates issued in their favor are all true and honest, and of these there are hundreds.

FROM THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

LANCASTER, July 25, 1868.

KEYDER & Co.—Gentlemen: In reply to yours of the 22d inst., I would say that I have used Dr. Stcver's Tonic Herb Bitters extensively in my practice during several years past. I do not hesitate to say that I have found it to possess remarkable efficacy in cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Loss of Nervous Energy, as well as Fever and Ague, Diarrhœa, Headache and other diseases proceeding from a disordered stomach; and especially has it proved of inestimable value in general debility of the system, when other tonic medicines have failed to produce the desired effect.

Though reluctant to appear as recommending any particular advertised medicine, a sense of duty to the public and the medical faculty will not allow me to withhold my testimony to the merits of the Bitters in question. Yours, respectfully,

IMPROVED MORNING GLORY.—The famous Morning Glory Stove, so popular as a parlor and office stove, has sometimes been objected to for use in chambers and by families needing but one fire, because not adapted to heat water, &c.—This difficulty has been overcome, and last Monday we saw one of the improved Morning Glories in operation at the Warroom of Col. C. H. BUEHLER, on Carlisle street, which seems not only to obviate objections but to meet every desired want. It is nothing more or less than the ordinary Morning Glory, with an Oven about 15 inches in diameter attached, and ingeniously arranged dampers by which the heat can be thrown around the oven at pleasure, and making it as hot as the ovens of the best cooking stoves. Water can be boiled, pies baked, and even meat roasted as readily as in a cooking stove. This contrivance, while preserving all the qualities of the Morning Glory as a heater, adapts it for the sick chamber, or use in small families requiring but little cooking. tf

"DON'T LEAVE THE FARM."

Come, boys, I have something to tell you,
Come near, I would whisper it low:
You are thinking of leaving the home stead—
Don't be in a hurry to go.
The city has many attractions,
But think of the vices and sins;
When once in the vortex of fashion,
How soon the course downward begins!

You talk of the mines of Australia—
They're wealth in red gold without doubt;
But, ah! there is gold on the farm, boys,
If only you'll shovel it out;
The mercantile life is a hazard,
The goods are frst high and then low;
Better risk the old farm a while longer—
Don't be in a hurry to go!

The great busy West has inducements,
And so has the busiest mart,
But wealth is not made in a day, boys,
Don't be in a hurry to start!
The bankers and brokers are wealthy,
They take in their thousands or so!
Ah! think of the frauds and deceptions—
Don't be in a hurry to go!

The farm is the safest and surest,
The orchards are loaded to-day;
You're free as the air of the mountains,
And monarch of all you survey.
Better stay on the farm a while longer;
Though profit comes in rather slow,
Remember you've nothing to risk, boys—
Don't be in a hurry to go!

PROFIT OF KEEPING SHEEP.

Twenty-five or thirty years ago, when I was a boy, there were very few sheep kept in this part of Chester county, Pennsylvania; compared with the last five or ten. Farmers generally thought they were poisonous to the land. Thirty years ago farmers would buy eight or ten ewes in the fall, and keep them over a year or more, for the purpose of getting wool for manufacturing use in their own families, but with no idea of positive pecuniary profit.

My father went into sheep keeping more extensively. He generally bought twenty-five or thirty ewes in the fall, and put a good buck among them about the first of October, so as to have them lamb in March.

I was part of my work to attend these sheep in winter and spring, but after they were turned out to pasture there was very little care taken of them. We had a large tract of woodland, that was low and marshy, which I think is not the place for sheep; they were turned there in the spring, and hardly allowed to look into a field the whole summer.

Within ten or twelve years I have generally bought from fifty to seventy ewes of the common stock in the fall, and kept a good buck to put with them. I may as well mention here that I have tried most all the improved breeds of stock, and think the Southdown the best for my purpose, as the lambs are ready for market earlier than any others. As a general rule in buying sheep I select pretty good wooled ones, about one-fourth Merino, as I think they are the best sucklers and make the fattest lambs. After the lambs are taken off the ewes get ready for market earlier than coarse or open wooled sheep. I sell all my sheep except the buck every year and buy in a new lot.

Twelve or fourteen years ago I bought some adjoining land, of which about ten acres were new land, partly cleared. I fenced it off and cut the timber and cleared it up, by cutting away the briars and rubbish. Part of it was thin land. I plastered it and pastured it with sheep for about ten years, and about the end of that time I think it was as fine a "green grass" sod as I have ever seen. In the spring of 1858 I ploughed it and planted it in corn. In the fall the Chester County Agricultural Society offered a premium for the best five acres, and also for the best one acre of corn. I had been called upon by one of my neighbors to help measure some corn, of which he had a very good crop, for the purpose of competing for the premium. I happened to speak of it before my men, when they said we have a larger crop than that. They took a barrel out the next day and measured some heaps, and told me the result. I called on two of my neighbors and, after carefully measuring it, they made out the following report; "The best one acre yielded 104 bushels of shelled corn; the best five acres yielded 95 bushels per acre;" for which I received the first premium.

I think it was owing to its being pastured with sheep as it never had any manure on it except the plaster. While speaking of this land I may as well mention that it was entirely out of sight of the buildings, and I bring in sheep at night on account of the My neighbor's sheep, which be in the adjoining field, were frequently attacked by dogs, but mine were never disturbed. I have had but two sheep killed by dogs for ten years. I think the reason of it is that I put a number of bells on them, from two to three dozen in a flock.

Some farmers pasture the land very closely with cattle before turning their sheep on it. The consequence is a bare field; but if you let the grass get up, and do not permit it to be eaten off by cattle or horses first, I think sheep are no harder on grass than other stock. The spring of the year is the most difficult time to keep them from eating down the grass. It is a great advantage for ewes that have lambs to have grass early.

I frequently let them run in my wheat field in winter and early spring to save the grass fields. I keep them as long as I can on the field I intend to plant with corn that season, not ploughing it until late in April. I have not missed having a good crop since I have adopted this plan, and have never had my corn injured to any extent with cut worms or insects. I don't think it would be profitable for farmers to stock their farms altogether with sheep on account of the resulting manure. Although sheep make the very best manure, it is difficult to work up straw and cornstalks without some cattle.

I keep my sheep all together in a good dry, airy place in winter, keeping them in at nights and when it is stormy, but letting them run out in good weather. About the first of March, when they commence lambing, I take out the ewes that have lambs and put them in a separate enclosure, making a pen in one corner for the lambs to go in and eat meal, which they will do when they are three weeks old.—Germantown Telegraph.

USEFUL HINTS.—A bit of glue dissolved in skim milk will restore crape.

Ribbons of every kind should be washed in cold suds and not rinsed.

If your flat irons are rough, rub them with fine salt and it will make them smooth.

A bit of soap rubbed on the hinges of doors will prevent their creaking.

Scotch snuff put in holes where crickets come out will destroy them.

Wood ashes and common salt wet with water will stop the crack of a stove.

Strong lye put in water will make it as soft as rain water.

Half a cranberry, it is said, bound on a corn, will soon kill it.

If you wish to avoid a cold keep your mouth shut. The same plan also keeps the teeth from getting sun-burnt, and people from noticing them if they are.

A TOUSSEUR in Quebec tried to crawl down the chimney and surprise the family by emerging from the fire-place, but got wedged in at the bend of the flue, and had to be dug out with picks.

HURD & HOUGHTON'S

LIST OF

CHOICE BOOKS.

NOTE.—Any book published by HURD & HOUGHTON, 459 Broome street, N. Y., will be sent by them postage prepaid, on receipt of the advertised prices.

1. BREMER. Life, Letters and Posthumous Works of Fredrika Bremer. Edited by her sister, Charlotte Bremer. Translated from the Swedish by Frida Milow. In one vol. crown 8vo. Cloth, $2.

"We have quoted so much from this charming volume that we have no room for further quotations, but it is a book to be read."—Examiner, London.

"The double biography is delightful, chiefly because it shows Fredrika in the bosom of her family, from earliest childhood—and may be said to trace the history of her mind."—Philadelphia Press.

2. THE OPEN POLAR SEA. Popular edition. By Isaac I. Hayes, M. D. With nine illustrations on wood, and a map. 1 vol., post 8vo. Cloth, $2.50. Fine edition, embellished with six full-page illustrations, drawn by Darley, White and others, from Dr. Hayes's sketches; three full-page charts; twenty-eight vignettes, and a fine portrait of the author, engraved on steel. 1 vol., 8vo. Price $3.75; half calf $6.

"What we have said of Dr. Hayes's book will, we trust, send many readers to its pages. The Doctor's heroism is remarkable, and he well deserves to be named with the late Dr. Kane in Arctic honors.—London Athenæum.

3. SKETCHES ABROAD WITH PEN AND PENCIL. By Felix O. C. Darley. With 19 full-paged and 74 smaller illustrations on wood. A new edition with three additional vignettes, and printed on toned paper. In 1 vol., 4to. Price in cloth, $3.50; cloth gilt, $4; morocco, $8.

"Undoubtedly, Mr. Darley is the best draughtsman in the United States; and judging him by what he has here done, he can have no superior anywhere. His designs are engraved by accomplished artists in the best style of art, and taking these, together with his own entirely natural and unaffected description of what he saw abroad, we know of no similar production which we should be willing to recommend so unreservedly."—Boston Courier.

4. OLD ENGLAND; Its Scenery, Art and People. By James M. Hoppin, Professor in Yale College.—1 vol., 16mo. Price $2.

"This book has the advantage of concisely and emphatically pointing out many comparatively neglected objects of interest and beauty for attention and pleasure. 'Old England' is just the book for the departing traveller to put in his pocket to refresh his memory and make suggestive his tour."—Boston Transcript.

5. ITALIAN JOURNEYS. By William D. Howells, author of "Venetian Life." 1 vol., crown 8vo. Price $2.

"There is no writer of travels in our day so simple, sincere, enjoyable and profitable."—Brooklyn Union.

"It is not so much what Mr. Howells sees as what he ignores that gives his readers the sense, when they have finished his book, of having been lingering over a charming narrative."—Boston Post.

6. VENETIAN LIFE; Including Commercial, Social, Historical and Artistic Notice of the Place. By William D Howells. 1 vol., crown 8vo. Price extra cloth, $2.

"It is Venice directly presented to the imagination, steeped in its own peculiar atmosphere, so that we see what the writer sees, share his emotions, and remain the companion of his walks, rather than the reader of his pages."—Boston Daily Transcript.

"Probably no book of the season has given so much delight as Mr. Howells' 'Venetian Life.' Mr. Howells has produced a volume which is worthy to stand with Irving's 'Alhambra.'"—Hartford Press.

7. REMINISCENCES OF EUROPEAN TRAVEL. By Andrew P. Peabody, D. D., LL. D., Preacher to Harvard University. Price $1.50.

"On art, architecture, laws, manners and society his criticisms are discriminating, kindly and often original; and the reader could have no better guide, less spite and more solid sense, than many of far greater size and pretension."—Saturday Review, London.

8. THE TURK AND THE GREEK: or Creete, Races, Society and Scenery in Turkey, Greece and the Isles of Greece. By S. G. W. Benjamin. 1 vol., 16mo.—Price $1.50.

"His style is pleasant, and he has the art of grouping facts in a clear and interesting manner."—N. Y. Times.

"The style of this book is that of an easy narrative, the epigrammatism of the acute right-minded American, and the predictions are shared in common with intelligent observers everywhere."—Brooklyn Union.

9. HOMESPUN; or, Five and Twenty Years Ago. By Thomas Lansdale. 1 vol., 16mo. Price $1.75.

"Homespun; or, Five and Twenty Years Ago," which we have before noticed briefly, is a book which we cannot praise too highly.....His descriptions have that strong flavor of the old-time which we notice in the opening spring, and that refreshes us more than the most costly foreign odors.

"From sirloin Samarcand or spicy Lebanon."—Springfield Republican.

10. TWO THOUSAND MILES ON HORSEBACK.—Santa Fe and Back. A Summer Tour through Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and New Mexico, in the Year 1866. By Colonel Jas. F. Meline. 1 vol., crown 8vo. Price $2.

"He is a good traveller, and combining the disciplined mind of a student with the training of an army officer, he is well qualified to give an opinion upon what he observes. The record of travel he has given us is rich in excellent opportunities for careful observation with a great variety of adventure in the prairie."—Standard, New Bedford, Mass.

"The title gives, however, an inadequate idea of the nature of the book, contains not only descriptions of the incidents of the route, but historical matter which is both new and interesting."—Evening Post, New York.

11. THE HAND-BOOK FOR MOTHERS. A Guide in the Care of Young Children. By Edward H Parker, M. D. A new edition. In one volume, 12mo. Cloth, $1.50.

"The volume answers authoritatively all the questions which are so continually arising, and removes the painful doubts with which they are continually troubled. It is instead of such great practical value, and meets a want, that there would seem to be no excuse why it should not be considered a necessity in every family."—Boston Daily Transcript.

12. WOMEN IN PRISON. By Caroline H. Woods. In 1 vol., 12mo. Cloth, $1.25.

Mrs. Wood's record of the life of a Matron in a State Prison, is unadorned fact.

13. THE DIARY OF A MILLINER. By Belle Otis (Caroline H. Woods). In 1 volume, 16mo. Cloth, $1.25.

"A smart milliner could tell many a fine story. A smart milliner is 'Belle Otis,' and that is just what she does. Her sketches are all the vivacity and piquancy which belong to woman. Now it sends a shaft, and then follows a sally of exquisite humor."—Albany Express.

14. ESSAYS ON ART. By Francis Turner Palgrave, late Fellow of Exeter College, Oxford. One vol., 16mo, red cloth, gilt tops. Price $1.75.

"Mr. Palgrave's canons of art are eminently catholic, free from any tendency to sensationalism; and, though his examples are confined chiefly to the current emanations of British culture, his motives are general, his reasoning true, and his style of expression is such as carries the weight of authority."—Boston Post.

15. THE ART IDEA; Sculpture, Painting and Architecture in America. By James Jackson Jarves. 1 vol., 16mo, cloth. Price $1.75.

"The volume deserves the careful study of intelligent amateurs of art; and, whatever differences of opinion it may call forth, its details will be found of rare interest and full of instructive suggestions."—New York Tribune.
